Lavian Dsouza

has successfully completed the online Specialization

BI Essentials for Finance Analysts (Power BI Edition)

This specialization helps analysts to advance their data analysis skills by learning to manipulate, transform, and visualize data in Microsoft Power BI, the most widely used data visualization tool. You'll also understand how to source data from a database. After completing a case study on financial statement analysis in both Power BI and Excel, you'll be able to compare and contrast the merits of each tool, and how to move data between them.
